VOL. XVI, No. 2. {SIXTEENTH YEAR} GLOUCESTER, MASS., SATURDAY, JULY 13, 1912. PRICE FIVE CENTS

Magnolia

THE season is now on in its full swing and Magnolia has increased from a settlement of fifteen or more families to some 3,000 persons including the help. More than any point on the North Shore Magnolia is a summer resort proposition pure and simple. When the hotel and cottage shutters are closed the place is almost literally a deserted village.

Why Magnolia? Up to within 25 years ago the place was known as Kettle Cove, so named from one of the very first settlers, John Kettle, who came here before 1630 and set up the business of fishing. Kettle cove, the place was until about a quarter of a century ago, when it blossomed out as a summer resort. Then the name, Kettle cove, was considered too prosaic and it was rechristened Magnolia, the railroad station being so named, which was a great factor in the change. It is true that the magnolia grows wild. alone in the North at West Gloucester, but not in the locality known as Magnolia point. The same is more appropriate to West Gloucester, which still retains its designation as the West parish. It is desirable if possible to retain the ancient nomenclature. Richard Blynman, the first pastor, had his residence here, and the old Blynman house, a thing of the past, perpetuated his name in the locality. Whether the name Kettle cove will ever be restored is doubtful, but the golf club has affixed the designation as a title and it seems that it should be continued in some public institution that it may survive.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Prentiss Baldwin, Miss Hannah and Miss B. Baldwin from Boston are at the Oceanside for a week.

Among the Bostonians here for the season is Mrs. Caroline M. Fuller.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Hull and Miss Phyllis Hull are Oceanside guests.

All but two of the Magnolia cottages have been leased for the season. This is an index of the situation generally on the North Shore.

The Rockport Shore

IN common with all sections of the North Shore this section is enjoying a high tide of patronage and popularity. The cottages filled up unusually early despite the handicap of the very backward spring and the hotel bookings early assured success in the hostelries. Rockport has its charms which appeal with irresistible force to a large number who have made their home here at one time and another, and this popularity is steadily increasing as witness the constant erection of new residences and hostelries.

Joseph Stinson and family of Philadelphia, are occupying the cottage of Charles A. Nelson on the Headlands.

Charles H. Dillaway and family of Boston, have arrived at their Marmion way cottage.

The Annisquam Region

ANNISQUAM is again having its innings this year and is housing a larger number of guests in hotel and cottage than ever. The yacht club as ever is the focussing point for the social life and the ladies committee appointed to arrange for entertainments are attending to its duty with commendable efficiency. Life here is informal. The river is especially adapted to yachting, motor boating, canoeing, etc., and the diversions are enjoyed to their utmost. Nowhere are facilities nearer at hand for bathing than here, the river, and numerous beaches within a stone's throw of the cottage settlement affording every desired opportunity for these diversions.

M. M. Taylor and family of Worcester are occupying the Lund cottage on Nashua ave.

East Gloucester

THERE is no place along the shore which holds its clientage more firmly than East Gloucester. The roster of hotel guests disclose the same names and families returning year after year. The opening of the season here is like an annual family reunion, new guests coming in to swell the number. The season is now at its height, and as it rounds into August will reach the overflow point. Presidential election year has always been considered a poor one for business. Not so the summer resort industry, if it may be termed an industry, on the North Shore. Business was never better. Some years ago an outing on the shore or in the mountains was considered a luxury and an incident. Now a home at the shore either in cottage or hotel is a necessity. With the increase of wealth the great American "Spenders" have made two homes, one at the shore or in the country and one in the city, a matter of course. Indeed, like the English, the country or shore house is becoming the home of many, as witness the large number of summer residents, the acquiring citizenship and a hailing point in the town, with the house in the metropolis only a staying point.

The Eastern Point Associates, who in the past have barred autos from their property, are considering the feasibility of removing this restriction and allowing free access to all parts of the property.

Jacob M. Plaut and family of Cincinnati, have the smaller cottage of the Ten Associates at Bass Rocks Heights for the season. The large cottage, just completed on the western part of the property, is occupied by Thomas F. Richards and family of Boston.

The family of Walter Wellman, the journalist and aviator, have a cottage at Rocky neck for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Wellington of Boston, who last year occupied the Wakefields at West Gloucester, have taken the Gate lodge at Eastern Point for the season.

Miss Alma Guekenberger of Cincinnati, has returned to the Rockaway for the season.

INNER HARBOR AND CITY FROM EAST GLOUCESTER

GLOUCESTER

BY MRS. ELIZABETH STUART PHELPS-WARD

Afoam her head, her eye afire;
Fair as her youth her age shall be,
All mother and, all siren too,
She sits beside the curbing sea.
Honored of years and wet with tears
Her name we take from history.

Maker of men when men are worth
The highest price the times can hoard
She tosses heroes on the deep
As hands toss dice across a board.

Her crews like halliards snap and fall;
The lad goes gaily singing where
The master wind shall flog him down
And choke his last curse into prayer.

He hurls upon the brutal gale
The spirit of his pioneer
There is no alphabet in him
That halts to spell the pale word, fear.

To run the trawl, to fight the storm
To flee no peril though he can,
To rate his life like frozen bait;
He asks no more—our fisherman.

Mother of Sons' Thy daughters asked
The one thing more and had it not;
They asked of life a little love—
Mid-seas their dead sway, unforgot.

In wars of winds as wars of states
Forever theirs the sadder part,—
There sighs in every ebbing tide
A lonely woman's breaking heart.

Across the Point like furling fog
The ghosts come deaf-mute, sweeping by,
Upon the downs the long glass stares
And trembles, blurring to the eye.

Sea-driven, land locked, still, each to each,
The hearts of man and woman call;
It may be death; it might be life
That builds between them its mist wall.

We turn us from our lighter mood
That laughs upon the summer bay
And kneel before the cliff's rough feet
And lift our lifeless hands and pray—

"Give us the sailor-soul that dares
"Nor counts the cost whate'er it be.
"Give us the patience of the coast
"That weeps—a woman—by the sea."

For granite-fast, tide true we feel
The Gloucester glamour holds the shore.
Who loveth her and wins her once
Shall love and seek her ever more.

Afoam her head, her eye afire,
Fairer than youth her age shall be
All mother and all siren still
She bids and beckons to her knee.
Honored of years and salt with tears
Her name we give to History.

A Poetic Souvenir

We printed in an issue last year a part of the poem "Gloucester," written by Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps-Ward for the dedication exercises of the tablet erected at Stage Fort to the pioneer settlers of Massachusetts Bay. Although an extra number were published, the demand was so great that they quickly became exhausted. During the winter this demand has continued, coming from all quarters. To meet this inquiry we reprint this poem in its entirety and also another entitled "Gloucester Harbor." The latter was published some 35 years ago and in a volume entitled "Songs at the Start," by Louise Imogen Guiney. We believe the author is

TO ADVERTISERS

The CAPE ANN SHORE, now in its sixteenth consecutive season, is the only summer resort publication on Cape Ann. It reaches every section of the cape, and is the only means of communication of the kind between the merchants and the summer residents. Therefore its value as an advertising medium is self-evident. It contains each week a full and complete account of the social happenings of the summer resort section. It occupies a place by itself in the advertising field, reaching the most profitable customers along the North Shore. Advertisers should remember these facts.

PRINTED AT THE OFFICE OF THE BARRY PRINTING COMPANY, SALEM, MASS.

The Surfside

The Surfside is again enjoying that large measure of prosperity which has marked it during the past five years under the management of Prop. Joseph Hyams. The place is deservedly popular with automobile parties as well as permanent guests, many of the latter being old patrons returning.

A well known Cleveland family returning for another season comprise Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Backwill, Miss Audrey Backwill and Miss Norma Brennan.

Well known guests who will make an extended stay at the Surfside comprise Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Knickerbocker of Ballston Spa, N. Y., and chauffeur.

The grand officers of the Royal Arcanum will dine at the Surfside next Tuesday, after which they will visit the points of interest about the Cape.

S. P. Seymour and family will spend the season at the Surfside. Mr. Seymour is manager of Massachusetts and Technology Chambers.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Peckham of Troy have arrived for an extended stay.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Griggs and Miss Griggs of Johnstown, N. Y., are old guests returning.

A Meriden, Conn., party registered for a stay include Mrs. A. V. McKiernan, Miss Mary E. Grady, Miss Annie L. Healey.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Munroe of Kansas City, will remain here until Sept. 1.

Among other guests to register recently for a stay are, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Sanborn, Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Blake, Boston; Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Meade, Greenwich, Conn.; Mrs. M. A. Chadbourne and Miss C. J. Tolles, Brockton.

Old-time patrons of the Surfside arriving this week are, Mrs. A. H. Martin, Miss M. A. Nickerson and Mrs. C. F. Nickerson of Newtonville.

W. M. Peckham and family arrived at the Surfside this week from Troy, N. Y.

Among this week's arrivals are, Dr. and Mrs. D. S. Ellis, Worcester; W. J. Danielson, Miss Danielson, Providence; Mr. and Mrs. Herman A. Strasburg, Herman Strasburg, Detroit.

Ex-Postmaster Charles H. Riley of Dedham, and wife, are at the Surfside for their 14th season.

An orchestra, comprised of players from the New England Conservatory of Music, renders concerts afternoons and evenings daily.

Magnolia

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lee Jr. and three children and nurse of Philadelphia, have returned to the Oceanside for the season and are in the East cottage. Mr. Lee is one of the prominent officials of the Pennsylvania system.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Bryan, Jeannete and Philip Bryan of Brookline, have taken apartments in the Highland cottage for an extended stay.

Old Boston guests returning for another season at the Oceanside are, Mr. and Mrs. Rene E. Paine, R. E. Paine, Jr., Master Gerard Paine and governess. They have apartments in the Highland cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Lowrie and Frank H. Olmstead of Worcester, spent the week end at the Oceanside, as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Culbert.

Miss Emma M. Phalan and Miss Mary E. Hennigan of Boston, are making a July stay at the Oceanside.

Well known Bostonians who make the Oceanside their summer home are Mr. and Mrs. Boyden Loring. They have apartments in the Highland cottage.

Another family of prominent Bostonians who are domiciled at the Oceanside for the season are, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Everett, Richard M. and Henry C. Everett, Jr.

Mrs. Evarts Tracy of Plainfield, N. J., on returning to the Oceanside this week, was cordially welcomed by many acquaintances.

The Minister to Chili, Sig Eduardo Suarez, Senora Suarez and daughters, Eugenia Adrianna, and son, Jorge H. Suarez, form an interesting group, who are popular in social circles here.

Mrs. Swift Fernald of Chicago, has joined Mrs. Gustavus Swift, Jr., at Sea Crest cottage, one of the Oceanside chain. Gustavus Swift, Jr., of Chicago, is the directing head of the well known commercial establishment.

The tea musicale given by Mrs. Roger Noble Burnham at her studio at the Library building Sunday afternoon, brought out a large and representative assemblage of North Shore society people.

Mrs. Burnham, who possesses a dramatic soprano voice of great brilliance and sympathy was heard for the first time at Magnolia and her singing was quite a revelation to her auditors. She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Hemenway, a Vincent club girl.

The Misses Turner, who sang old fashioned Southern melodies to their banjos, have sung at the White House, for King Edward, Sir and Lady Laurence Alma-Tadema; and much in drawing rooms at Newport, New York and Boston, and are considered the best exponents of the folk-lore songs of the South.

Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Loring, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Lingard, Mr. and Mrs. Briggs, Miss Bowker, Mrs. Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. Hemenway, Mrs. Mustard, Louis Mustard, Jr., Mr. Gary, U. S. still alive. The two constitute two of the best poetic productions on the subject ever written. Both are the work of women,and together they make this number especially desirable for keeping and as a souvenir. Preserve this issue as these poems will not appear again.

The text of the "Gloucester" poem is from an original copy forwarded to Rev. Dr. William R. Rider, chairman of the literary exercises at the tablet dedication, and bears in Mrs. Phelps-Ward's handwriting, an autograph memorandum in regard to its reading which is among the Doctor's treasures.

GLOUCESTER HARBOR

By Louise Imogen Guiney

North from the beautiful islands,
North from the headlands and highlands,
The long sea-wall,
The white ships flee with the swallow,
The day-beams follow and follow,
Glitter and fall.

The brown ruddy children that fear not,
Lean over the quay, and they hear not
Warnings of lips;
For their hearts go a-sailing, a-sailing
Out from the wharves and the wailing
After the ships.

Nothing to them is the golden
Curve of the sands, or the olden
Charm of the town;
Little they reck of the peaceful
Chiming of bells, or the easeful
Sport on the down:

The orchards no longer are cherished;
The charm of the meadows has perished:
Dearer, ay me!
The solitude vast, unbefriended,
The magical voice, and the splendid
Fierce will of the sea.

Beyond them by ridges and narrows
The silver prows speed like the arrows
Sudden and fair
Like the hoofs of Al Borak the wondrous,
Lost in the blue and the thund'rous
Depths of the air;

On to the central Atlantic
Where passionate, hurrying, frantic
Elements meet;
To the play and the calm and commotion
Of the treacherous, glorious ocean,
Cruel and sweet.

In the hearts of the children forever
She fashions their growing endeavor,
The pitiless sea;
Their sins in her caverns she stayeth,
The spirits that love her she slayeth,
And laughs in her glee.

Woe, woe, for the old fascination!
The women make deep lamentation
In starts and in slips;
Here always is hope unvailing,
Here always the dreamers are sailing
After the ships.

Mrs J. Pierpont Morgan, wife of the financier, and daughter, Miss Frances of New York, arrived during the week and have two floors of Sea Vista cottage for July. Mr. Morgan is in Europe and Miss Anne Morgan, another daughter, remains in New York.

Among the cottagers to arrive are Col. W. A. Nelson of the Kansas City Star and his family. Their place is on Lobster Lane. Col. Nelson's yacht Hoosier is conspicuous by its absence, he having sold that craft.

Mr. and Mrs. Solomon P. Stratton of Boston are at the Oceanside for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin M. Jackson and Mrs. Kate L. Richardson are making a July stay at the Oceanside.

Returning for their annual stay at the Oceanside are Mr. and Mrs. David Loring of Boston.

Mrs. S. E. Farwell of Newton Centre is among the week's arrivals. She will remain during the summer at the Oceanside.

John Hays Hammond has returned to his home on Lookout Hill, Freshwater Cove, and has interested himself in the matter of an athletic field at Stage Fort Park.

Gen. and Mrs. Edwin M. Coats of New York are making the Oceanside their summer headquarters. They are in the Hesperus Annex.

Mrs. Sarah E. Ford of Cambridge is at the Oceanside.

The Misses E. B. and F. S. Rogers of Boston are here for the season at the Oceanside.

William Stanley Parker of Boston has joined his mother, Mrs. Charles E. Parker, at the Oceanside.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Story and Mrs. F. L. Featherstone of Boston are here for July at the Oceanside.

Miss Mary E. Kimball of Boston has returned for the season.

Mrs. W. H. Miller of Boston has returned to the Oceanside for the season.

Well-known guests returning to the Oceanside are Dr. and Mrs. L. M. Tiffany and Miss Birch of Baltimore. Mrs. Tiffany is the mother of Mrs. Gordon Abbott, well known in North Shore society circles.

Mr. and Mrs. John Markel, E. Moore Robinson and Ralph D. Bonnell of New York have returned to the Oceanside for the season. Mr. Markel is a partner of J. Pierpont Morgan. They are in the Breakers cottage.

The Annisquam Region

Col. Ira McNutt and family of Bethlehem, Penn., have returned to their cottage on Annisquam Heights. His son, Prof. Barry McNutt of Lehigh University, and family are with them.

Mrs. Fred Bronsdon and daughter Helen of Dorchester have arrived at their cottage on Nashua avenue, Diamond Cove.

Joseph Richardson and family of Needham have apartments in the Woodbury House on Leonard street.

Postmaster and Mrs. Samuel Wheaton of Manchester has leased the Francis Reid cottage at Lanesville for the season.

Mrs. William Tudor of Boston motored down to The Pines Tuesday and has been the guest of Mrs. Lingard during the week.

Capt. Joseph A. Moore has joined the motor boat owners, a craft of this type built for him having been launched this week.

John Butler Swan and Miss Margaret Swan of New York are occupying the cottage of Dr. Houghton on Adams Heights.

Frederick Price and family of Watertown have taken part of the Wishart House on Nashua avenue for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Acton of Cambridge have the S S. Sylvester cottage on Washington st.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wyman of Jamaica Plain opened their cottage, Kamp Kontent, on Dennison street this week.

William A. Smith and family have Cambridge cottage, near the old mill, in the Willows settlement.

The Annisquam Dramatic Club, which this winter produced the Shakesperian comedy of "As You Like It," will repeat the production during the summer. Whether the presentation will be in the village hall or "under the greenwood tree" is being debated. If a suitable place can be found it will be given in the open. Miss Virginia Tanner, under whose direction the play was given, has arrived and is superintending the arrangements. The play is given under the patronage of Miss Annette Rogers and Miss Annie Fisher whose Annisquam residence is the Tideways.

Notwithstanding that much has been done to beautify the summer place of Cardinal O'Connell at Bay View, and it never looked more inviting and restful, Cardinal O'Connell will not be seen here again until late in the season, his duties calling him abroad. It is expected he will return in September.

COUNTRY FAIR TO BE NOVEL

North Shore Cottagers and Other Folks Actively Interested in Coming Event in Aid of a Worthy Work

Under the general management of Miss Leslie Bradley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stow Bradley of Pride's Crossing, plans are progressing for the "Country Fair" at the Montserrat Golf Club on Monday, July 29, which is to aid the work of the Children's Island Sanitarium at Marblehead.

There will be numerous attractions to lure visitors and to assure a thoroughly good time. There will be luncheon and afternoon tea. The fair is to open at ten in the forenoon and will continue until six in the afternoon. Should the day prove to be unfavorable, the fair will be postponed till the first pleasant day. The tables will be under the charge of prominently known ladies, as follows:

Miscellaneous — Miss Elizabeth Sears in charge, assisted by Miss Katherine Saltonstall, Miss Rose Saltonstall, Miss Elizabeth Parker, Miss Grace Brooks, Miss Marian Lovering and Miss Elise Ames.

Housekeepers—Mrs. Robert S. Bradley, assisted by Mrs. Henry E. Russell and Mrs. Reginald H. Fitz.

Cakes and Candies—Miss Alice Cotting, assisted by Mrs. C. E. Cotting, Mrs. H. G. O. Colby and Miss L. H. Newell.

Flowers and Fruits—Mrs. Reginald C. Robbins, assisted by Mrs. John Caswell, Mrs. S. Dacre Bush and Mrs. Charles F. Ayer.

Baskets and Sachets—Mrs. Neal Rantoul, assisted by Mrs. William G. Rantoul and Miss Franks.

Children's—Mrs. James H. Proctor, assisted by Mrs. Helen Frick, Miss Edith Fitz, Miss Minna Lyman, Mrs. Frank B. Bemis and Miss Hilda Rice.

Tables and Books—Miss Margaret Thomas and Miss Catherine Foster, assisted by Miss Elsie Pollard and Miss Amy Peabody.

Fancy Articles—Miss May Burnham, assisted by Mrs. Lester Leland, Mrs. J. M. Jackson and Mrs. J. Appleton Burnham.

There will be a novel feature in a soda fountain, with tempting drinks and ices, under the management of Miss Rosamond Bradley, who will be assisted by Miss Dorothy Ball and Miss Alice DeFord. A "Midway" with novel features to create general fun, will be under the charge of Augustus Hemenway, Jr.

Mrs. Randolph F. Tucker is to have charge of the midday luncheon and afternoon tea, and will have able assistants in her department of the fair.

Mr. Foster of Beverly has kindly loaned the use of his field adjoining the club, that a horse show may form a feature which will be of great interest. It will be under the charge of Mrs. George S. Mandell, who will have the assistance of Miss Mary Curtis and Miss Alice Thorndike.

The events will include children's driving and riding by young folks, thoroughbred hacks, park hacks and jumping ponies under fifteen hands. These events are open to all.

The Salem Cadet Band is to furnish music. Donations of articles or money will be gratefully received and acknowledged by Miss Leslie Bradley, Pride's Crossing, Mass.

THE CRY OF THE CHILDREN

By Elizabeth Barrett Browning

"For oh," say the children, "we are weary,
And we cannot run or leap;
If we cared for any meadows, it were merely
To drop down in them and sleep.
Our knees tremble sorely in the stooping,
We fall upon our faces, trying to go;
And underneath our heavy lids drooping
The reddest flower would look as pale as snow.
For, all day, we drag our burden tiring
Through the coal-dark underground—
Or, all day, we drive the wheels of iron
In the factories, round and round."

* * * * *

They look up with their pale and sunken faces,
And their look is dread to see,
For they mind you of the angels in high places,
With eyes turned on Deity;
"How long," they say, "how long, O cruel nation,
Will you stand, to move the world, on a child's heart;
Stifle down with a mailed heel its palpitation,
And tread onward to your throne amid the mart?
Our blood splashes upward, O gold-heaper,
And your purple shows your path!
But the child's sob curses deeper in the silence,
Than the strong man in his wrath."

Wheeler's Point

This eligibly situated neck of land extending into the river is again the home of a large number who find here just the conditions to their liking. The view of river with the West Gloucester and Essex hills in the distance is superb. Nowhere may motor boating and bathing be enjoyed to better advantage than along this stretch. The state has recently made an appropriation of $15,000 for the dredging of Mill river, the contract for which has been let. Supplementing similar work on the Annisquam side and giving a channel at all tides for craft of six foot depth, this dredging will make this section much more desirable to those who have pleasure boats. As elsewhere the section has its following who return annually believing that this particular spot is good enough for them to make their permanent habitation.

Frederick S. Thompson and family of Gloucester, cottagers here for more than 20 years, have again returned to Lilac cottage for the season.

The historic Colonial house on the point, known as The Only One, is this year occupied by E. S. Fletcher and family of Boston.

Representative H. Bert Knowles and family are again occupying the Barnacle.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrel T. Duguo are among the latest of the campers to arrive, their home being Camp Coot.

Ex-alderman Thomas F. Bell and family are occupying Crescent villa, where they have made their summer home several years.

Dr. Harry P. Roberts of Boston, Melvin McFarland and others of Boston, who have occupied Clear View cottage for some years past, are again enjoying life here.

William F. Kenney and family of Commonwealth ave., Boston, are cottagers of long standing, who have returned to Wheeler's point. As for some years they are occupying Villa cottage.

Edward Douglass and family of Boston, are as last year, at Omaland cottage.

R. S. Burns and family of Cambridge, are domiciled in their eligibly situated cottage near the end of the point.

Albert Center and family of Somerville, have taken occupancy of their summer cottage.

Harold Burnham and family of Gloucester, are occupying San Souci cottage.

Sea View cottage is again occupied by A. B. Chapman and family of Boston.

Mrs. D. D. Howard of Gloucester, is at her cottage for the summer.

Camp Egwanulti is again occupied by Miss Glynn of Boston and Miss Genevieve Ward of Brooklyn, N. Y.

L. R. Symmes and family of Winchester, are passing the summer at their cottage.

B. T. Maguire and family of Somerville, are in the Perkins cottage.

City messenger, Fitz McIntosh, and family, of Boston, are enjoying life in their cottage. Mr. McIntosh is numbered among the motor boat enthusiasts of this section.

J. A. Fenton and family of Norwood, are as for some seasons past, occupying Swastika cottage.

T. F. Garvey and family of Everett, are former cottagers who have returned for the season.

Charles McIntosh and family of the city proper, are occupying their cottage.

East Gloucester

Mrs. George W. Heath, Miss Fern P. Heath and Carroll F. Heath of Lowell, are registered for the season at the Harbor View.

Miss Helen G. Davis of Boston, is again numbered among the season's clientage at the Harbor View.

Mrs. W. A. Fitch, Master Grant and Miss Jane Fitch, and nurse of New London, Conn., are domiciled during July at the Harbor View.

Mrs. A. M. Prescott, Miss Nellie G. Prescott of Rochester, N. Y., are season's guests at the Harbor View.

Miss Marguerite Taylor and Miss Emily K. Gylsen of New York, are making an extended stay at the Harbor View.

J. A. Lowell, Esq., of Springfield, Miss Clara Lowell and Edith A. Lowell of Greenfield, are guests during July at the Harbor View.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Tibbott and Fred M. Tibbott, are among the Philadelphians registered for the season at the Harbor View. Mr. Tibbott holds a very prominent position in the Wanamaker establishment, and was at one time President Harrison's private secretary. Mr. Fred Tibbott is an old Princeton quarterback and was an undisputed member of the All America football team during his college career.

Miss Lelia Mechlin of Washington, is again occupying Top Gallant cottage on the Harbor View grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Milliken, Miss E. E. Milliken and S. B. Milliken of Newton, are old patrons returning to the Harbor View for another season. Mr. Milliken is one of the firm of Jones, McDuffie & Stratton.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Jewett of New York, are at the Harbor View for an extended stay.

Mrs. Ellis Mendell of Brookline and Bass Rocks, announces the engagement of her daughter, Katherine, to Harold W. Cheney, also of Brookline, and Harvard, '12.

Henry Souther and family of Hartford, are among the Bass Rocks cottage contingent here for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville M. Stoddard of Worcester, are numbered among the Bass Rocks cottagers. Their home is on Atlantic road.

L. L. Sturgis and family of Hartford, are at their cottage, Beach road, Bass Rocks.

W. H. Taylor and family of Yonkers, N. Y., are at their Beach Bass Rocks cottage, corner Briar and Souther roads.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Trevor of Cincinnati, are established for the season at their cottage on Beach road.

The family of N. J. Walsh of Cincinnati, are occupying the Charles Granville Way cottage on Bass Rocks point.

At Bass Rocks for the season are F. C. Rockwell and family.

Returning for another season are the family of Winthrop Sargent of Haverford, Penn. Their house is on Bass Rocks road.

Fred M. Wier and family of Lowell, are occupying their Atlantic ave. cottage.

Wilmot Grant Pierce of Germantown, Penn., and family, are occupying their cottage on Beach road, Bass Rocks.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Parker of Detroit, have returned to Felsensprung, their Bass Rocks summer home.

Walter G. Resor and family of Brookline, are at the same cottage on Beach road, which they occupied last season.

William T. Kimball and family of Lawrence, are as usual occupying their Bass Rocks cottage, situated on Atlantic road.

R. R. Laidlaw of Englewood, N. J., have returned to their Bass Rocks summer home.

Riverview and Wolf Hill.

Riverview on Squam river is another favored spot which attracts many as a summer home. The bluffs bordering the river afford fine sites from which view of river, country and sea, may be enjoyed. Some day, not so far in the future, a steel bridge will be thrown across the river perhaps from the old county road at Ferry lane to Annisquam, or as formerly known Rust island. This island has recently been connected permanently with the mainland by a roadway giving access at all times. This locality needs only the connecting link of a bridge at this point to give a short cut from the north section of the cape to the upper part of the county. In this way travel toward Essex and northward will be saved five miles.

Mrs. J. E. Garland, who has been absent from this locality for several years, is occupying her cottage at Riverside this season. C. Frank Rice and family of Somerville, who have been Annisquam river cottagers many years and occupied the Garland cottage, will not be on the river this season.

Hon. John M. Cole and family of Andover, will not come to their cottage this season.

Mrs. Frances Chamberlain of Cambridge, is again occupying her cottage.

The family of Dr. F. W. A. Bergengren of Lynn, who for many years have made their summer home here, are again at their Ferry hill cottage.

Harry G. Pew and family, of the city proper, are at their cottage.

Nathaniel S. Gorton, of the Gorton-Pew Company, and family of Gloucester, have taken the Howard Smith cottage for the season. Prior to their coming they enjoyed a stay at their country house in Essex.

Ernest E. Blatchford and family of Gloucester, are at their cottage. Mr. Blatchford is among the motor boat enthusiasts of this locality.

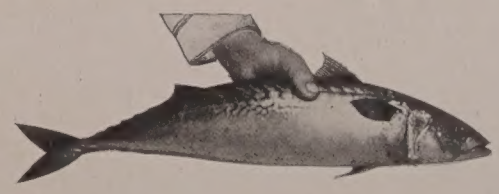
OUR NEW FIREPROOF OFFICE, SHIPPING AND PACKING BUILDING JUST COMPLETED THE MOST PERFECT SANITARY BUILDING EVER CONSTRUCTED FOR THE FISH BUSINESS. BUILT AND OCCUPIED EXCLUSIVELY BY FRANK E. DAVIS FISH CO., GLOUCESTER, MASS.



WE SELL FISH

Only to the CONSUMER Direct and NOT to the DEALER.

A Mail Order Business Since 1885.

You will want for your Own Home Table just such fish as you are enjoying now at the seashore.

You will want Fresh Lobster. We can supply you any time with lobster meat as fresh, as crisp, as perfect looking and tasting as if you yourself shelled it from the finest fresh lobster. It is canned in the modern sanitary way right where the lobsters live. Cans are parchment paper lined so meat does not touch the tin. It makes perfect salad, Newburg sandwiches and deviled lobster.

You want to use Fat Salt Mackerel, Genuine Codfish and other appetizing Gloucester products. We can supply you no matter where your winter home may be.

We furnish also Imported Fish Products, and in fact every kind of choice keepable fish for use in your own home.

Where else can you get such goods, put up as we do for particular people? We get special express rates and Prepay Charges right to your house.

Send for our list for use here or at your winter home. Better still, Call and meet us and see what we have to offer and leave an order for fall shipment You need not pay until you have tried the goods.

Big Furniture Bargain Sale

An exceptional opportunity is offered to secure first class summer furniture and household fittings at bargain rates at Luce's Main street Furniture Store, formerly Hunt's, nearly opposite Barker's.

Mr. Luce acquired this store two years ago, and desires soon to close it out, his large Elm street establishment being sufficient for his purposes.

This is therefore a genuine clearance bargain sale. Good money can be saved by those in need of cottage furnishings of all kinds.
